

Brian Henry
Account Executive, Market Analyst
Archer Financial Services
1600A Board of Trade Building
141 W. Jackson Blvd
Chicago, IL 60604
312-242-7964
877-377-7965
brian.henry@archerfinancials.com

Brian developed his interest for the futures market, while growing up on a small grains and livestock farm in North Central North Dakota. These experiences allowed him to gain hands on knowledge of the risks associated with farming and ranching. Brian pays close attention to the ever changing developments of the agricultural industry.

He graduated with a B.S. Social Studies from Minot State University.

Brian began his career in the futures industry as an employee of the Minneapolis Grain Exchange. While at the MGEX, his duties allowed him to gain knowledge of the mechanism of futures trading. These duties included enforcement of MGEX Rules and Regulations, product development and the implementation of electronic trading.

Brian's first opportunity on the business side of the futures industry was with ADM Investor Services, Inc. As an employee of ADM Investor Services on the trading floor of the MGEX, Brian provided market insight to various customers ranging from large commercial grain companies to country elevators and producers. As a member of the MGEX, Brian experienced the futures industry as a floor broker. His current duties as an Introducing Broker for ADM Investor Services allow Brian to use his experiences to provide clients with insight into market functionality, market analysis and risk management.