

fast Market News

Feb. 5, 2007

---

Predictable Terminal
Basis for End-Users

---

Minneapolis Grain

---

Exchange

February 5, 2007

Predictable Terminal Basis for Wheat End-Users

Hello:

The MGEX financially settled wheat indices offer a variety of benefits to wheat market participants. Electronic trading of all three wheat classes on one platform, all 12 calendar months listed and opportunities for complimentary trades with the physically delivered counterpart contracts are a few obvious ones. End-users such as millers, feed manufacturers and food companies can benefit from the stable and predictable terminal basis.

End-users can benefit directly by long hedges placed on all three of the wheat indices (as well as the corn and soybean index contracts) through reduced basis volatility. Even though the indices reflect country-level pricing, they often provide very stable basis relationships at the terminal markets. Read more.

Do you have a question on the MGEX financially settled agricultural index contracts? Submit your question to MGEX Marketing.

For more information about the MGEX financially settled agricultural index products, please contact me at 612-321-7151, go to www.mgex.com/indexes\_index.html or reply to this message.

Best Regards,

Joe Albrecht
Minneapolis Grain Exchange
Sales/Marketing Specialist
direct number 612.321.7151
cell 612.865.9536
e-mail jalbrecht@mgex.com
website <http://www.mgex.com>

