MGEX Wheat Indices - Producer Benefits

Hello:

There are many benefits of the financially settled MGEX wheat indices and they vary depending on the user. Electronic trading of all three wheat classes on one platform, all 12 calendar months listed and opportunities for complimentary trades with the physically delivered counterpart contracts can be advantageous to any wheat index market participant. A producer specific example is introduced below.

Wheat producers may sell directly to elevators whose bids are collected by DTN and used in the spot index price calculation. This means a high correlation between country cash markets and the MGEX financially settled agricultural index futures. As a result, basis volatility is reduced and hedging results are often more predictable. Read more.
